Q2 2026 highlights

REVENUE

189.6

MNOK

▼ -30.0% YoY

Shortfall driven by weaker short-term commercial execution outside the Americas, lower event-driven infrastructure investment as the industry completed its World Cup related build-out, and negatively impacted by currency effects.

GROSS MARGIN

%

▼ -0.6 pp YoY

Stable margins compared to prior year, reflecting product mix, adverse FX effects from a weaker USD and continued impact of U.S. tariffs.

UNDERLYING EBITDAC

11.6

MNOK

▼ 6.1% margin (25.6% LY)

Margin compressed from 25.6% to 6.1%, a direct result of the lower product revenue in the quarter.

FREE CASH FLOW

-54.3

MNOK

▼ -15.8 MNOK YoY

Negatively affected by higher working capital including corporation tax payments.

Following a weaker second quarter, we now expect full-year 2026 revenue in the range of NOK 880–920 million, representing growth of approximately 10–15% year-on-year, compared with previous guidance of approximately NOK 1.0 billion.

H1 2026 highlights

REVENUE

421.3

MNOK

▼ -2.8% YoY

Shortfall in the first half was driven by weaker short-term commercial execution outside the Americas and negatively impacted by currency effects.

70.1

%

▼ -1.3 pp YoY

Margins held despite headwinds from a materially stronger NOK compared to prior year and continued impact of U.S. tariffs.

UNDERLYING EBITDAC

37.5

MNOK

▼ 8.9% margin (21.7% LY)

Margin compressed from 21.7% to 8.9%, driven by lower gross profit and increased operating costs.

FREE CASH FLOW

-82.3

MNOK

▼ -31.6 MNOK YoY

Negatively affected by higher working capital including purchase of buffer inventory for long-lead-time components and corporation tax payments.

Following a weaker first-half, we now expect full-year 2026 revenue in the range of NOK 880–920 million, representing growth of approximately 10–15% year-on-year, compared with previous guidance of approximately NOK 1.0 billion.

The background is a wide-angle, high-angle shot of a large football stadium at night. The pitch is green and well-lit. The stands are filled with spectators, and a long banner of various national flags runs along the top of the seating area. Bright floodlights are visible along the top edge of the stadium's roof structure.

The Q2 shortfall in two parts: market timing and coverage

One reverses with the calendar, the other is ours to fix, and we are addressing it

MARKET TIMING — The wave

Why demand contracted

- The air pocket between build waves (H2'26 – H1 '27), against the strongest comparative quarter in our history
- EMEA –NOK 69m vs an event-heavy Q2 2025
- Self-correcting: procurement ramps again into LA28 / UCL / MLB

COVERAGE — Our mix

Why we felt all of it

- Revenue concentrated in strategic accounts whose buying is correlated with procurement timing, less steady Enterprise and SME base to offset the trough
- APAC: NOK 5m in the quarter
- Ours to fix and underway: the certified channel build in EMEA and APAC, strengthen direct coverage in EMEA.

Third, smaller factor: currency: a NOK 9.9m headwind in the quarter

Timing made the hole - coverage is why we felt all of it - the next two slides take each in turn

Rights value and rights timing drive technology investment

Value sets the level of spend, rights and technology cycles set its timing

$67B

Rights spend 2026, the leading indicator (+9.6% YoY)

12–24

Months procurement runs ahead of airdate

Resilience

Risk drives premium, spend scales with the cost of failure

The same wave, 12–24 months apart

Rights value spikes in event years, 2026 – 2028 – 2030, with procurement peaking 12–24 months ahead. H2’26 – H1’27 is the air pocket between waves, 2027 intake is H2-weighted.

2027 intake is H2-weighted as the air pocket runs through H1.

Expanding route to market: channel coverage in EMEA and APAC

The direct playbook stays, certified partners extend it to markets that buy indirect

Expanding revenue: the engine, the accounts & the software pivot

Wider reach, wider portfolio, and the software layer on top

- 1 Expand route to market
Channel partners open APAC and parts of EMEA:
- 2 Sell deeper into accounts we won
IP facility infrastructure, same buyers, wider portfolio.
- 3 Meet the software pivot
Live production on VX — first commercial order secured in Q2.
The X playbook, run again.

The background image shows a dimly lit broadcast control room. In the foreground, a person wearing a cap and headphones is seated at a desk, their hands on a keyboard. The desk is cluttered with various pieces of equipment, including a laptop and a control panel with many buttons. Behind them, a wall of multiple monitors displays various video feeds, including sports scenes and technical data. The overall atmosphere is professional and focused.

Q2 2026 in depth

Q2 2026 – Commercial execution fell short of expectations

Rolling 4 quarters revenue, NOKm

Commentary

- Revenue of NOK 190 million, compared to our strongest quarter of revenue of NOK 271 million recorded in Q2 2025 impacted our Rolling last 4 quarters revenue.
- Rolling last 4 quarters revenue to 30 June 2026 increased 8.5% YoY to NOK 789 million
- The X Platform continue to drive our revenue and expansion of our footprint in the market.

Q2 2026 – Revenue below our expectations, with the revenue shortfall concentrated in EMEA

- ### Commentary
- Higher share of revenues generated from support services and software licenses, further strengthened with securing a four years of recurring service revenue from a leading global communications provider.
 - Americas declined 7% YoY in Q2 2026, against a strong comparative but grew 18% year-to-date, driven by deepening relationships with major broadcasters & sports leagues, including FOX Sports.
 - EMEA declined 54% YoY in Q2 2026, against a very strong prior-year comparative affected by the timing of several large EMEA infrastructure deals recognized in the prior year.
 - APAC remains at an early stage and is the region where our channel partner strategy matters most.

| Q2 & H1 financials

Q2 2026 impacted by weaker short-term commercial execution

Q2 2026 – Financial Performance

Q2 2025

Commentary

- Revenue for the second quarter was NOK 189.6 (270.8) million, representing revenue decline of 30.0% YoY from our strongest quarter of revenue recorded in Q2 2025 (several large EMEA infrastructure deals recognized in the comparative), and adversely impacted by currency effects of NOK 9.9 million.
- Gross earnings for Q2 2026 of NOK 132.7 (191.1) million in Q2 2025, achieving consistent gross margins of 70.0% (70.1%), despite headwinds from a materially stronger NOK and the continued impact of U.S. tariffs.
- Operating expenses of NOK 98.6 (109.8) million driven by reversal of approximately NOK 10 million for short- and long-term incentive plans provision recognized earlier in 2026, in light of current financial performance & non-market vesting conditions.
- Underlying EBITDAC¹ of NOK 11.6 (67.9) million. Underlying EBITDAC margin compressed to 6.1% (25.6%), a direct result of the lower product revenue in the quarter.
- Effective tax rate 24.8% (20.4%).

Income tax expense	15	(22)
Profit for the period	46	85

Commentary

- Revenue for the half year of NOK 421.3 (433.3) million, representing revenue decline of 2.8% YoY from H1 2025, adversely impacted by currency effects of NOK 27.6 million, equivalent to 6.4 percentage points of year-on-year growth.
- Gross earnings for H1 2026 of NOK 295.2 (309.4) million in H1 2025, achieving gross margins of 70.1% (71.4%), adversely impacted by foreign exchange with weaker USD and impact from U.S. tariffs
- Operating expenses of NOK 236.4 (197.6) million driven by increase in average FTEs 235 (195). When aggregating the first two quarters no amounts recognized in 2026 for short- and long-term incentive plans provision in light of current financial performance & non-market vesting conditions.
- Underlying EBITDAC¹ of NOK 37.5 (94.2) million. Underlying EBITDAC margin of 8.9% (21.7%).

Cash position impacted by securing important components, settled annual bonus and tax instalment

H1 2026 cash flow development

Commentary

- Free cash flow¹ was negative NOK 54.3 million in Q2 2026 and negative NOK 82.3 million in H1 2026. This reflects specific items related to the first half of the year rather than a deterioration in underlying cash generation
- Cashflow for the half year was negative NOK 82.3 (negative 28.4) million, before NOK 100.0 (purchase: 20.0) million drawdown of money market funds.
 - Cashflow from operating activities was negatively impacted by:
 - Changes in working capital caused by purchase long-lead-time components, payments of short-term incentive plans;
 - Corporation tax instalment of NOK 41.9 (16.9) million.
 - Cashflow from investment activities negatively impacted by:
 - Capitalization of technology development expenditure of NOK 41.5 (29.7) million.
- In addition to the cash, the company holds investments in money market funds of NOK 347.4 (Dec 2025: 438.6) million, giving Available liquidity of NOK 425.6 (Dec 2025: 499.1) million.

Available liquidity remains solid, working capital increased for purchase of long-lead components

Available liquidity, NOKm

Cash and cash equivalents Money market funds

- Available liquidity of NOK 425.6 (499.1) million, comprising net cash position of NOK 78.2 (60.5) million and investments in money market funds of NOK 347.4 (438.6) million.
- Q4 2025 cash flow attributable to IPO proceeds with net proceeds of NOK 95.2 (nil) million from issues of new shares and NOK 95.7 (nil) million from sale of treasury shares.

Working Capital, NOKm

Working Capital as a % of sales Working capital

- Working capital as a percentage of sales increased representing build of buffer inventory for long-lead-time components.
- Trade receivables were broadly stable indicating that collection quality remained sound throughout the period.
